

IDITAREAD CHALLENGE ONLINE

Join our new winter reading program for kids ages 3-12! This program is modeled on the Iditarod sled dog race through Alaska. Kids will read their way through each checkpoint on the race route. To track your child's progress, please use the ReadSquared app. If you track on paper (available as PDF at www.gtpl.org), simply add the number of pages to each checkpoint and you can enter them all at once. To use the ReadSquared app, please follow the instructions below:

1 To get started, get the ReadSquared app from your preferred app store or go to <http://georgetown.readsquared.com>. Complete the requested information to set up an account.

From the Dashboard, you can check reading progress, reading lists, prize badges, and log reading progress. Prizes can be picked up at the library or via curbside pickup. When you are ready to add your pages read, click on "Log Reading".

3

Once you click on "log reading", select "Pages".

You can now log pages read. If you have more than 1 child participating, be sure to select the child whose progress you are entering.

4

When you reach a major checkpoint, you will receive a badge that will let you know to stop in to the library (or call for curbside) for a prize. Finish by March 20 and receive a special finisher prize.

IditaRead Challenge

February 1 - March 20

Read your way to the finish line!

Goal: Read the same number of pages as there are miles between each checkpoint. EX: It is 11 miles from Anchorage to Campbell Airstrip. Read 11 pages and check it off to reach the Campbell Airstrip checkpoint!

At checkpoints with a red flag, you can also claim a prize.

Remember that you must log your reading online in order to redeem prizes.
